Introduction

The Selex Pension Scheme (the "Scheme") is a registered pension scheme set up under trust and administered by SELEX Pension Scheme (Trustee) Limited (the "Trustee") according to the rules of the Scheme. (For more information about how the Scheme works, see pages 31 onwards (General information about the Scheme).)

The Scheme provides valuable benefits for you and for your dependants. The benefits you are entitled to are described in detail in the rules of the Scheme. This booklet has been designed to explain the main details of the benefits provided to members of the 100+ Section of the Scheme who were members of the BAE Systems Scheme (100+ Section) on 29 April 2005 and became members of the Scheme on 30 April 2005. Members of the 100+ Section who were not previously a member of the BAE Systems Scheme should read the 100+ Section (new) Member's Booklet.

If you are uncertain about what section of the Scheme you are a member of or if you require more information about your pension, please contact the Pension Administrator.

You should note that this booklet is intended as a guide and is not a legal document. Your entitlement under the Scheme is set out in the rules, the current law and Revenue practice. If there is any conflict between the booklet and the rules of the Scheme, the rules will prevail. You should also note that the rules, the law and Revenue practice can be changed at any time.

Words in this booklet which are written in italics are defined on page 35.

Actions you should take now: There are a number of actions you should consider taking regularly:

- Keep the Pension Administrator updated of any change in your personal circumstances e.g. change of address, getting married or divorced etc.
- Do you want to pay voluntary contributions? (see page 8 for further information)
- Do you need to update your expression of wish form? (see page 26 for further information)
- Do you wish to change the way your Retirement Account is invested? See the Selex Pension Scheme Retirement Account Guide for further information.

Please note: This booklet describes the benefits paid by the Scheme (i.e. Selex Pension Scheme) only, except where stated otherwise. Your entitlement from your BAE Systems pension is set out in the rules of the appropriate BAE Systems scheme.

Summary of benefits

Joining the 100+ Section

Eligibility	You were eligible to join the 100+ Section of the Scheme on 30 April 2005 if:
Lingionity	 you were an active member of the BAE Systems Scheme (100+ Section) as at 29 April 2005; and you joined the Scheme on 30 April 2005.
	The 100+ Section of the Scheme closed to new members on 27 April 2009.
Opting out	Remaining in the Scheme is not compulsory. You may choose to opt-out of the Scheme by completing an Opt-Out form, available from the Pension Administrator.
	You will be required to give two months' written notice of your intention to leave the Scheme . At the end of the pay period in which your notice expires you will be treated under the Scheme as if you had left service.
	 Please note, by opting-out: You will lose the benefit of the Company's contributions towards the cost of future pension provision. You will lose the protection provided by the Scheme to you and your family in the event of your death in service. You will lose some of the protection provided by the Scheme to you and your family in the event of your early retirement from the Company on account of ill health. You will no longer build up a pension in the Scheme and your entitlements under the Scheme will be based on your Final Basic Salary and completed Pensionable Service at your date of opting-out.
Rejoining the Scheme after opting-out	As the Scheme is closed to new members, a Member who elects to opt out of the Scheme will not be eligible to rejoin at a later date.
oping out	You may be eligible to join FuturePlanner (which is the Company's defined contribution scheme) at a later date and certain restrictions and conditions may be imposed. The trustees may require you to provide evidence of your health in connection with joining FuturePlanner and, if appropriate, restrict the terms of your membership. If you are a member admitted on restricted terms, you will be notified on joining.

Contributions

Member contributionsCurrently you must pay 7.5% of your Basic Salary whilst you are in Pensionable Service towards your core benefits.

Your contributions are deducted from your pay before tax is calculated. Therefore you automatically receive income tax relief at your highest rate.

You will stop making contributions when you leave Pensionable Service or die, whichever occurs first.

For information about paying contributions when you are temporarily absent from work, see page 27.

Employer contributions The rate of your employer's contributions is determined by the Trustee and the Company with advice from the Scheme actuary, who carries out regular reviews of the financial position of the Scheme.

An amount equal to 2% of your Basic Salary will be paid to your Retirement Account.

Voluntary contributions You may increase your benefits by paying voluntary contributions. Voluntary contributions qualify for income tax relief at your highest rate, in the same way as your normal member contributions. Please see the box on page 9 for information on contribution limits.

As a member of the 100+ Section, you may pay Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs) to an AVC fund with Old Mutual Wealth (previously known as Skandia). Until 1 December 2009, there was an option to pay voluntary contributions to your Retirement Account (called Additional Basic Contributions or ABCs) and this has now ceased.

- ABCs ABCs allowed you to pay voluntary contributions to your Retirement Account to secure extra retirement benefits on a money purchase basis. Your ABCs are invested with Old Mutual Wealth in investment funds of your choosing. Your entitlement to additional benefits will be calculated by using the value of your Retirement Account and the factors used to convert this amount to pension at the date of your retirement. The ability to pay ABCs into your Retirement Account ceased on 1 December 2009. Any ABCs paid before this date can remain invested in your Retirement Account until you retire.
- AVCs AVCs allow you to pay voluntary contributions to secure extra retirement benefits on a money purchase basis. Your voluntary contributions are invested with Old Mutual Wealth in investment funds of your choosing and your entitlement to additional benefits will be calculated by using the value of your account with Old Mutual Wealth and the factors used to convert this amount to pension at the date of your retirement.

If you would like to know more about paying voluntary contributions, you can download the Retirement Account Guide and the AVC Guide and the appropriate forms from the Scheme website, www.selexpensions.co.uk.

The Scheme rules provide that, in any tax year, your member contributions to the Scheme and voluntary contributions to the Additional Voluntary Contributions arrangement cannot exceed 100% of your UK taxable earnings. It is your responsibility to ensure that you do not exceed the 100% limit as the Pension Administrator will not have all the necessary information to monitor this.

You may incur a tax liability if your pension benefits increase by more than $\pounds 50,000$ in one tax year (reducing to $\pounds 40,000$ in 2014/15). The value of any increase in your Selex pension over the year is taken into account. For more information please see page 29 (Annual Allowance) and read the "Pension Tax Changes" document available from the Scheme website at http://www.selexpensions.co.uk/51/69/pension-tax-changes.

Payment
through SMART
pensionsAn option exists to pay member and voluntary contributions through a salary sacrifice arrangement. This option is known as SMART pensions, which stands for "save money and reduce tax". It is a method of paying contributions that is used by many organisations to deliver savings to their employees and the business.

More information about SMART pensions is available in the Selex Pension Scheme – SMART Guide and on the website, www.selexpensions.co.uk.

Please note if the increase in your Selex benefit due to additional service accrued and increases to your Final Basic Salary is not more than the revaluation on your BAE Systems Benefit Deduction, you will not receive a top up to your BAE benefit and your Selex benefit may decrease.

Alternatively your core pension entitlement from the Scheme can be described as:

Selex core pension	=	Gross core pension	less	BAE Systems Benefit Deduction
--------------------	---	--------------------	------	----------------------------------

Where:

- your gross core pension is calculated using your total pensionable service in the Scheme and the BAE Systems Scheme and salary information as at the date of leaving the Scheme; and
- your BAE Systems Benefit Deduction is calculated using your pensionable service in the BAE Systems Scheme only and salary information up to 29 April 2005 (which is subject to revaluation).

The amount of the BAE Systems Benefit Deduction will be calculated using the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme effective as at 29 April 2005. Therefore the BAE Systems Benefit Deduction will not be affected by:

- any change to the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme after 29 April 2005; nor
- if you transfer your benefits out of the BAE Systems Scheme or take your benefits from the BAE Systems Scheme at a different time to the benefit from the Scheme.

It is possible that a small number of members may not be entitled to any benefit from the Scheme. This can occur, for example, where the member is subject to Scheme limits or where the BAE Systems Benefit Deduction is bigger than the gross pension (which can occur if the member's Final Basic Salary has not increased in line with inflation since leaving the BAE Systems Scheme in 2005).

You should note that the Scheme and the BAE Systems Scheme are separate pension arrangements. Therefore,

- you will receive a pension from two pension arrangements: the Scheme and the BAE Systems Scheme;
- you must apply to each scheme if you wish to draw your pension;
- the Scheme cannot affect your entitlement from the BAE Systems Scheme; and
- any pension payable from your Retirement Account, AVCs and transfers made to the BAE Systems Scheme are paid from the BAE Systems Scheme.

The Scheme and BAE Systems Scheme are separate arrangements

Amount payable from BAE Systems Scheme BAE Systems Scheme memory accordance with the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme. The BAE Systems core pension will often be equal in amount to the BAE Systems Benefit Deduction but not necessarily so, especially if you draw your pension from the BAE Systems Scheme at a different time or transfer your entitlement out of the BAE Systems Scheme.

Normal retirement

Your entitlement from the Scheme is based on two types of pension arrangement: a "defined benefit" part (the core pension) and a "defined contribution" part (your Retirement Account).

The main part of your benefits – the core pension – is based on your salary and the number of years you contribute to the Scheme (and the BAE Systems Scheme).

Your Retirement Account tops up your entitlement to pension and is based upon the contributions made to your Retirement Account and investment returns.

Your pension will be the total of your Selex core pension and the pension provided by your Selex Retirement Account.

More detail about the way each element of your pension is calculated is set out below.

Calculating your BAE Broadly, your BAE Systems Benefit Deduction is calculated using the same Systems Benefit method as set out above but using: Deduction your Pensionable Service in BAE Systems Scheme only i.e. up to 29 April 2005: and salary information up to 29 April 2005 i.e. your Final Basic Salary as at 29 April 2005. This amount will then be revalued to take account of the period between 29 April 2005 and the date you draw your Selex benefit. Pension provided by Your Retirement Account is the second part of your pension. Your benefits vour Retirement provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Account Retirement Account at the date on which benefits are provided. Your Selex Your Selex Retirement Account will contain: Retirement Account Additional Basic 2% x Basic Other amounts Selex Salary (paid in Contributions (if allocated to the Retirement monthly by any) paid by you Retirement Account + = + Account your (see page 8 for (if any) e.g. transfer employer)

Your Retirement Account is held in an account with Old Mutual Wealth. You may choose how it is invested, from a range of options selected for you by the Trustee. If you do not make a decision, the Trustee will choose a default investment option. You should note that the value of your Retirement Account could go up or down depending upon your investment returns.

values

When you come to retire, your Retirement Account may be used to

- pay a lump sum to you when your pension starts; and/or
 - provide a pension to you.

For further information about the investment options available and how your Retirement Account may be used, please read the Selex Pension Scheme – Retirement Account Guide, which is available from the Pension Administrator or can be downloaded from www.selexpensions.co.uk.

If you choose to buy a pension with an annuity provider, the pension provided by your Retirement Account will be calculated as follows:

If you wish to speak to an independent financial adviser (IFA) about your options for purchasing a pension on the open market, Aon Hewitt can provide you with details of their independent annuity advice service. Please note that there will be commission payable should you select this option which will be reflected in the annuity quotation provided. Alternatively, contact details for IFAs in your area can be found at www.unbiased.co.uk.

Your BAE Retirement Account	Your Retirement Account in the BAE Systems Scheme will remain invested with Standard Life (or such other provider as is appointed by the BAE Systems Scheme) and will be separate from your Selex Retirement Account.
	The BAE Systems Retirement Account will continue to achieve investment returns while you are a deferred member of the BAE Systems Scheme . You may change the investment options on this account if you wish. You should contact the trustees of the BAE Systems Scheme if you wish to do this.
	When you come to retire, your BAE Systems Retirement Account may be used to purchase retirement benefits in accordance with the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme .
Limits on benefits	You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the rules of the Scheme . Further details are set out on page 29.
	Please note that you may not draw your Scheme benefits unless you leave Service , i.e. you are no longer employed by the Company .
Choices at retirement: lump sum	You may be able to exchange part of your pension for a tax free cash sum. Further details are contained on page 20.
BAE Systems benefits	The amount of pension payable from the BAE Systems Scheme will be calculated in accordance with the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme . As noted on page 12, the BAE Systems core pension will often be equal in amount to the BAE Systems Benefit Deduction but not necessarily so, especially if you draw your pension from the BAE Systems Scheme at a different time or transfer your entitlement out of the BAE Systems Scheme .
	If you would like to take your pension from the BAE Systems Scheme at the same time as you take benefits from the Scheme , you must notify the BAE Systems Pensions Service Centre as well as the Selex Pension Administrator.

Late retirement

Introduction	If you stay in Service after your Normal Retirement Date (age 65), you will continue to pay contributions to the Scheme (unless you opt out (see below)). Please ensure you read the 'Working past 65 Guide' on the Scheme Website before deciding to opt out as there are important considerations which may impact your pension.
	In order to remain covered for death in service benefits after you reach age 65, the group life provider may request that you complete a declaration form. Please contact Aon Hewitt if you would like further information.
Calculating your core pension	Broadly, your core pension will be calculated in the same way as for normal retirement (as described on page 13) based on your Final Basic Salary and your Pensionable Service at your date of leaving Service .
Your Retirement Account	Your Retirement Account will continue to be invested and achieve investment returns. The benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire.
Limits on benefits	You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the rules of the Scheme . Further details are set out on page 29.
	Please note that you may not draw your Scheme benefits unless you leave Service , i.e. you are no longer employed by the Company .
Choices at retirement: lump sum	You may be able to exchange part of your pension for a tax free cash sum. Further details are contained on page 20.
Opting out	If you do not wish to continue paying contributions and accruing benefits after your Normal Retirement Date , you may elect to opt out of the Scheme . If you opt out:
	 you will cease to pay contributions to the Scheme;
	 your pension will be calculated as if you were a deferred member based on your Final Basic Salary and your Pensionable Service at the date you opt out of the Scheme (see page 21); and
	• you will no longer be eligible for death in service lump sum cover.
Reaching age 75	If you stay in Service after age 75 you will be treated for all purposes of the Scheme as having left Service at age 75.
BAE Systems benefits	The amount of pension payable from the BAE Systems Scheme will be calculated in accordance with the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme .
	If you would like to take your pension from the BAE Systems Scheme at the same time as you take benefits from the Scheme , you must notify the BAE Systems Pensions Service Centre as well as the Selex Pension Administrator.

Early retirement

Introduction You may retire early (i.e. before your Normal Retirement Date (age 65)) and take an immediate pension at any time after the age of 55 if the Trustee and the Company consent. Calculating your If: core pension you elect to take your pension before your Normal Retirement Date; and the Trustee and the Company consent to you taking your pension early, your core pension will be: broadly calculated in the same way as for normal retirement (as described on page 13) based on your Final Basic Salary and your Pensionable Service at your early retirement date; then there will be a reduction at a rate determined by the Trustee and agreed by the Company for the period that your pension is taken early. This is to take into account the extra years over which your pension will be paid. Your Retirement The benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire. Account Limits on benefits You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the rules of the Scheme. Further details are set out on page 29. III health retirement

Introduction If you cannot work because of ill health, you may retire at any age with an immediate pension, subject to certain conditions.

Eligibility

In order to be eligible for an ill health pension you must:

- apply to the Trustee; and
- obtain the approval/consent of the Employer and the Trustee; and
- the Employer and the Trustee must be satisfied that you fulfil the definition of III Health.

Meaning of IIIIII Health means permanent physical or mental deterioration in health to a degreeHealthIII Health means permanent physical or mental deterioration in health to a degreeof a registered medical practitioner, prevents you from following your normal employment and seriously impairs your earning capacity for the foreseeable future. You must have in fact ceased to carry on your occupation.

The Trustee will ask the Scheme's medical adviser to carry out a report for the Employer and the Trustee. You will be asked to complete a form authorising the release of your medical records to support this.

Calculating your IIIIf you are eligible for an III Health pension, your core pension will be calculated as follows:

Core pension at the date of your retirement (as set out on page 13) based on your Final Basic Salary and your Pensionable Service at your retirement date PLUS Prospective pension of half the pension you could have earned if you had stayed in Service until your Normal Retirement Date based on your Final Basic Salary a your retirement date	less	Your BAE Systems Benefit Deduction (as set out on page 13)
---	------	--

Your RetirementThe benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire.

Limits on benefits You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the rules of the Scheme. Further details are set out on page 29.

Please note that you may not draw your Scheme benefits unless you leave Service, i.e. you are no longer employed by the Company.

Suspension or termination of pension	Until Normal Retirement Date, the Trustee may periodically require evidence of your continued III Health. The Trustee has the power to reduce, suspend or terminate your pension if, in its opinion, this is justified by a subsequent change in your circumstances.
Choices at retirement: lump sum	You may be able to exchange part of your pension for a tax free cash sum. Further details are contained on page 20.
BAE Systems benefits	If you would like to take your entitlement from the BAE Systems Scheme , you will need to apply for an ill health pension to the BAE Systems trustees. The eligibility criteria and pension entitlement are set out in the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme .
	Please note that there is no guarantee that both the Trustee and the BAE Systems trustees will come to the same decision regarding whether you are eligible for an ill health pension as the rules of the schemes and their requirements do contain differences.

Other information about pensions

Tax free cash lump sum	You may, with the consent of the Trustee , exchange part of your pension when it is due to start for a tax free cash sum. The maximum cash sum you may take within HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) limits is broadly 25% of the value of your Selex pension including your Retirement Account and AVC fund (if any).
	Subject to HMRC limits:
	 you can take the whole of your AVC fund as cash, up to a maximum of £50,000 (or 25% of your AVC fund if this would exceed £50,000); and
	• you can take the whole of your Retirement Account as tax free cash.
	Unless you elect otherwise, your AVC fund (if any) will be used first to provide your lump sum (up to the £50,000 limit), followed by your Retirement Account, before converting any part of your core pension to a lump sum. The amount of core pension that you will need to give up for cash is determined by the Trustee having taken actuarial advice.
Pension increases	Your pension will increase on 1 May each year (or on such other date as may be decided by the Trustee).
	Broadly increases will be in line with:
	 for core pension accrued before 6 April 2006, the increase in the retail prices index, subject to a maximum increase of 5% in any year; and for core pension accrued on or after 6 April 2006, the increase in the retail prices index, subject to a maximum increase of 2.5% in any year.
	Proportionate increases are given in the first year of retirement, relative to the number of complete months you received your pension.
	Pension increases will apply to your core pension. If you use your Retirement Account or AVCs to purchase a pension with a pension provider, different increases will apply depending on whether you choose an increasing or a non-increasing pension.
	You will be advised in writing of how your pension increases have been calculated each year.
Payment of pension	Your monthly core pension from the Scheme will be paid to you in advance, on the first working day of each calendar month.
	Pensions are paid by credit transfers to your bank or building society account.
	Pension payments are subject to tax under the PAYE system.

Certificate of Deferred Benefits

When you leave the Scheme, you will be given a Certificate of Deferred Benefits and it is important that you keep this safe. It is also very important that you keep the Pension Administrator informed of any change of address to ensure that you can be traced when your benefits become due.

Entitlement at Normal RetirementDateYour core pension from the Scheme will be calculated at your date of leaving broadly in the same way as your core pension at normal retirement (see page 13), by reference to your Pensionable Service and Final Basic Salary at the date of leaving.

Your gross core pension and BAE Systems Benefit Deduction will be increased until your Normal Retirement Date (or the date your pension begins, if earlier) at a rate equal to:

- for core pension accrued before 6 April 2009, the increase in the consumer prices index, subject to a maximum of 5% per year compound over the period of deferment; and
- for core pension accrued on or after 6 April 2009, the increase in the consumer prices index, subject to a maximum of 2.5% per year compound over the period of deferment.

Your Retirement Account Your Retirement Account (and AVCs if any) will continue to be invested and achieve investment returns (positive or negative). The benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire.

Limits on benefits You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the rules of the Scheme. Further details are set out on page 29. Please note that you may not draw your Scheme benefits unless you leave Service, i.e. you are no longer employed by the Company. Choices at You may be able to exchange part of your pension for a tax free cash sum. Further retirement: lump details are contained on page 20. sum Late retirement You may retire late (i.e. after your Normal Retirement Date (age 65)) but no later than the date you cease working or age 75, if earlier, if the Trustee consents. Your core pension will increase at a rate determined by the Trustee (and agreed by the Company) to take into account the late payment. Your Retirement Account will continue to be invested and achieve investment returns (positive or negative). The benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire. Early retirement You may retire early (i.e. before your Normal Retirement Date (age 65)) and take an immediate pension at any time after the age of 55. Your core pension will be reduced at a rate determined by the Trustee (and agreed by the Company) for the period that your pension is taken early. This is to take into account the extra years over which your pension will be paid. The benefits provided from your Retirement Account will be determined by the value of your Retirement Account at the date on which you retire. If you cannot work because of ill health, you may retire at any age with an III health retirement immediate pension, subject to certain conditions. The Trustee must be satisfied that you fulfil the definition of Incapacity or Chronic III health. Incapacity means you are suffering from physical or mental impairment which according to the evidence of a registered medical practitioner provided to the Trustee, and in the opinion of the Trustee, results in you being and continuing to be incapable of carrying on your occupation. You must in fact have ceased to carry on your occupation. Your pension will be calculated in the same way as a pension payable on early retirement (including reducing it to take account of the fact that it is being paid early). Chronic III-health means you are suffering from Incapacity which, in the opinion of the Trustee, results in you being permanently unable to undertake any regular work with the Company or any other employer. Your pension will be calculated in the same way as a pension payable on early retirement except that the Trustee may decide not to reduce it to take account of the fact that it is being paid early. The Trustee will ask the Scheme's medical adviser to carry out a report for the Trustee. You will be asked to complete a form authorising the release of your medical records to support this. The Trustee's decision regarding whether you fulfil the eligibility criteria is final.

BAE SystemsThe amount of pension payable from the BAE Systems Scheme will be calculatedbenefitsin accordance with the rules of the BAE Systems Scheme.

If you would like to take your pension from the BAE Systems Scheme at the same time as you take benefits from the Scheme, you must notify the BAE Systems Pensions Service Centre as well as the Selex Pension Administrator.

Other options for deferred members

Refund of If you have less than two years' Qualifying Service you may choose to receive a refund of your Basic Contributions to the Scheme, instead of a preserved pension or transferring out your entitlement.

Your refund will consist of your Basic Contributions less tax. You will not receive any benefit from your Retirement Account.

This option is not available if a transfer payment in respect of your rights under a personal pension arrangement has been made to the Scheme.

Transfers out Members with more than three months' but less than two years' Qualifying Service: You may take a transfer value instead of a refund of contributions.

The Trustee will notify you of your rights and will inform you of the period in which you may elect to receive a transfer value. If you do not exercise this right within the period the Trustee allows, the Trustee will pay a refund of contributions (see above).

Members with two or more years' Qualifying Service: You may, as an alternative to leaving your deferred benefits in the Scheme, choose to take a transfer payment to a registered pension arrangement, such as your new employer's pension scheme or a personal pension arrangement.

You can choose this option at any time up to a year before your Normal Retirement Date provided you have not started to receive your benefits from the Scheme.

The transfer payment will be the cash equivalent transfer value (CETV) of your benefits. You may request that the Trustee provides you with a statement of entitlement to your CETV at any time between leaving Service and one year before your Normal Retirement Date. If you would like to request a statement of entitlement, you should contact the Pension Administrator for more details.

The Trustee's liability to pay a deferred pension ceases upon payment of the transfer value to your new pension arrangement and you will cease to have any entitlement under the Scheme.

Retirement Account: In addition to the benefit described above, a lump sum equal to the value of your Retirement Account at the date of your death will be payable. Limits on You should be aware that your Scheme pension could be restricted to comply with limits set out in the Rules of the Scheme. Further details are set out on page 29.

Who is the lump sum death benefit payable to?The lump sum death benefit will be paid to, or for the benefit of, your beneficiaries or to your legal personal representative, at the Trustee's discretion. Your beneficiaries include your relatives, dependants, and any person you nominate in writing to the Trustee.

Paying benefits at the discretion of the Trustee generally enables payment to be made quickly and normally without liability to inheritance tax.

You can help the Trustee decide who to pay the lump sum benefits to by completing an Expression of Wish form and returning it to the Pension Administrator. The Trustee will consider your wishes but is not legally bound by them. Only forms returned to the Pension Administrator can be considered by the Trustee.

Expression of Wish forms can be obtained from the Scheme website, www.selexpensions.com or the Pension Administrator.

Expression of Wish forms completed when you were a member of the BAE Systems Scheme may not be considered by the Trustee. Therefore you must complete an Expression of Wish form for the Scheme.

You should complete a new Expression of Wish form if your wishes or circumstances change. You may also wish to complete a new BAE Systems Expression of Wish form for the trustee of the BAE Systems Scheme as the trustees cannot share information contained on your Expression of Wish form.

Survivor's pension

If a member dies after reaching age 65 or after starting to receive a pension from the Scheme, a survivor's pension will be payable for life (unless the Trustee notifies you in writing to the contrary) to your spouse, except that:

- if you were not living with your spouse as husband and wife at the date of your death and, in the opinion of the Trustee, your marriage had broken down, the Trustee may decide not to pay a pension to your spouse; and
- the Trustee may treat a person of the opposite sex or same sex with whom you are living as husband and wife as your spouse.

If you are not living with your spouse and you are in a relationship with another person, the Trustee may decide at its discretion who to pay the survivor's pension to and may apportion the survivor's pension between them as it thinks fit.

The Trustee may choose not to pay a survivor's pension if you entered into the relationship within six months of the date of your death.

If you die leaving one or more dependant(s) then, whether or not there is a surviving spouse, the Trustee may at its discretion decide to pay all or part of the survivor's pension to the dependant(s). You may nominate a dependant(s) by completing an expression of wish form and returning it to the Trustee.

Please note that a pension payable to a child cannot be paid past the age of 18 (or age 23 if the child is full time education) unless the dependant was physically or mentally dependant on you.

The entitlement to the survivor's pension will commence on the first day of the month following the date of your death.

Personal events

Members away from work If you are away from work, it will depend upon your circumstances whilst you are absent as to whether you may accrue pension benefits.

Special rules apply to members on sick leave.

Paid leave If you receive normal or reduced remuneration during your absence, you may continue to pay contributions to the Scheme, in which case you will continue to accrue pension benefits.

You will have to pay contributions based on the pay you would have received if you were receiving your full remuneration.

Maternity, adoption and paternity leaveIf you are absent as a result of maternity, adoption or paternity leave, you will continue to accrue pension benefits during statutory ordinary maternity leave, statutory ordinary adoption leave and statutory paternity leave and also during any further period of paid absence for which you pay contributions.

You will have to pay contributions during:

- (a) statutory ordinary maternity leave, statutory ordinary adoption leave and statutory paternity leave based on the actual pay you receive during these periods; and
- (b) during any other period of paid absence based on the pay you would have received if you were receiving your full remuneration.

You will accrue pension benefits based on your full remuneration.

Unpaid leave If you take unpaid leave i.e. your contractual pay is suspended whilst you are absent, you will be treated as having left Service at the start of the period of unpaid leave and you will not accrue pension benefits during your period of absence.

When you return to work at the end of the period of unpaid leave, your Pensionable Service before being treated as having left Service and after returning to work will be treated as continuous (but excluding the break).

In exceptional circumstances, you may be allowed to pay contributions and accrue pension benefits for the period you were absent. Your HR representative will be able to provide more details.

- Life cover whilst You will not be covered for lump sum death benefits or survivor's pension death benefits unless you are informed otherwise by the Company.
- Part-timeBenefits relating to part time employment will be pro-rated to take account of the number of hours a week you work.
- Evidence of health If you are a member admitted on the basis of restricted terms, as a result of a medical condition on joining the Scheme, any restriction on your ill health pension or death benefit will have been notified to you in writing.

Ceasing to be eligible	If you cease to be eligible to be a member of the Scheme , you will be treated as having left Service . You will become entitled to deferred benefits (see page 21).
Opting-out	It is not a condition of your employment to be or remain a member of the Scheme.
	You may opt-out of the Scheme at any time by giving two months' notice in writing to the Company and the Trustee in the necessary form.
	You should note that if you opt-out of the Scheme:
	 You will lose the benefit of the Company's contributions towards the cost of future pension provision. You will lose the protection provided by the Scheme to you and your family in the event of your death in service. You will lose some of the protection provided by the Scheme to you and your family in the event of your early retirement from the Company on account of ill health. You will no longer build up a pension in the Scheme and your entitlements under the Scheme will be based on your Final Basic Salary and completed Pensionable Service at your date of opting-out.
Rejoining the Scheme after	If you have opted-out of the Scheme you may not rejoin at a later date.
opting-out	You may be eligible to join FuturePlanner (which is the Company's defined contribution scheme) at a later date and certain restrictions and conditions may be imposed. The trustees may require you to provide evidence of your health in connection with joining FuturePlanner and, if appropriate, restrict the terms of your membership. If you are a member admitted on restricted terms, you will be notified on joining.
Marriage	If you get married, you should inform the Pension Administrator so your records can be updated.
Civil Partnerships	If you enter into a civil partnership, you should inform the Pension Administrator so your records can be updated.
	You should note that your civil partner will be treated in the same way as a spouse for pension earned after 5 December 2005 only. Therefore, you may wish to nominate your civil partner as a dependant (see page 26 for more detail). You may also wish to do this in relation to your BAE Systems benefits.
Divorce	If you are in the process of obtaining a divorce and you believe that any financial settlement arrangement will include pension benefits, you should contact the Pension Administrator for information about the value of your pension benefits.

Limits on benefits paid from the Scheme

Scheme limits The Trustee has to ensure that the benefits you receive do not exceed certain limits which are set out in the rules of the Scheme.

Contribution limits: The Scheme rules provide that, in any tax year, your member contributions to the Scheme and voluntary contributions to AVCs cannot exceed 100% of your UK taxable earnings.

Earnings Cap: If you joined the BAE Systems Scheme on or after 1 June 1989, an earnings cap will be imposed on your benefit entitlement. The Earnings Cap is £141,600 in the 2013/14 tax year. It will increase each April broadly in line with the percentage increase in the Retail Prices Index. You can obtain details of the revised Earnings Cap each year from the Pension Administrator.

Benefit limits: The rules of the Scheme have always contained limits on the amount of pension you may take from the Scheme. These limits continue to exist in the Scheme rules and will continue to apply to your pension.

As a rough guide, your benefits from the Scheme and the BAE Systems Scheme are restricted at Normal Retirement Date (NRD) to:

- a pension of two-thirds of your Final Remuneration; and
- a dependant's pension of two-thirds of your pension.

Please note, if you have less than 20 years service or leave service before NRD then the limit will be lower.

Broadly, the following are not included within the Scheme limits calculation:

- Retirement Accounts and benefits bought with AVCs paid to the Scheme and the BAE Systems Scheme;
- any transfers in to the BAE Systems Scheme which are fixed pension amounts (which Selex has no liability to top up via an earnings link); and
- State pensions and benefits from any other registered pension scheme

Any other transfers-in to the BAE Systems Scheme, for example transfers in which were used to purchase a service credit which Selex may have a liability to top up through the continuing earnings link are included in the Scheme limits calculation.

If you believe that your pension from the Scheme may be restricted by the Scheme limits, you may wish to consider taking independent financial advice regarding your options.

Questionnaire: The Trustee will require you to complete a questionnaire about your other pension benefits before Scheme benefits can be approved, finalised and put into payment.

HM Revenue & Customs limits Annual Allowance: The Government will allow you to contribute each year to registered pension schemes in a tax efficient way up to the Annual Allowance. The Annual Allowance has been significantly reduced and is £50,000 in 2013/14. This will reduce further to £40,000 in 2014/15. Contributions in excess of the Annual Allowance will attract additional tax charges and you should consider this Allowance carefully, especially when paying voluntary contributions.

Lifetime Allowance: The Government will allow you to take pensions from registered pension schemes in a tax efficient way up to the Lifetime Allowance. The Lifetime Allowance was £1.5 million in 2013/14 and will reduce to £1.25 million in 2014/15. Pension benefits in excess of the Lifetime Allowance will attract additional tax charges.

General information about the Scheme

About the SchemeThe Selex Pension Scheme is an occupational pension scheme set up under trust and administered by the Trustee according to the rules of the Scheme.The Scheme was established on 29 April 2005 to provide retirement and death benefits to certain employees of the participating employers.

The 100+ Section of the Scheme was set up to provide pension benefits to former members of the BAE Systems Scheme (100+ Section) who transferred to the employment of participating employers on 29 April 2005.

Core benefits under the Scheme are provided from trust assets, which are not allocated to individual members. All contributions are invested and the proceeds are used to provide benefits in accordance with the rules of the Scheme. Retirement Account assets are held separate from trust assets in the members' name.

Trustee The Trustee is SELEX Pension Scheme (Trustee) Limited, which has a board of directors (referred to as trustee directors).

The board of directors currently comprises eight trustee directors: four appointed by the Company and four elected by the Pensions Consultative Committee (PCC).

The Trustee is responsible for supervising the correct operation of the Scheme through its managers, with the assistance, where appropriate, from other professional advisers.

PensionsThe PCC has been set up to promote good understanding and communication of pension matters. The PCC is made up of Pensions Representatives who are nominated by the large site consultative committees to represent the pension interests of all Scheme members.

- The functions of the PCC are to:
 - Represent the views of Scheme members in consultations with the Company on matters relating to the Scheme;
 - Assist the Pension Administrator and Trustee with the communication of information to members of the Scheme; and
 - Elect four Pensions Representatives for appointment to the board of directors of the Trustee as member nominated trustee directors.

Contact details for your Pensions Representatives can be obtained from the Scheme website, www.selexpensions.co.uk.

Rules The Scheme is governed by the rules. Your entitlement under the Scheme is set out in the rules, the current law and HM Revenue & Customs practice. If there is any conflict between the booklet and the rules of the Scheme, the rules will prevail.

Copies of the rules are held by the Pension Administrator and are available for inspection by you. Alternatively, you could request a copy of the rules to be emailed to you by requesting a copy from the Pension Administrator.

Amending the Scheme Scheme Can be changed by the Company (with the consent of the Trustee) at any time (and the Company may change the rules retrospectively). The Company will endeavour to give you written notice if your benefits or rights are materially affected by such amendments.

The rules of the Scheme provide that the Company has the right to terminate the Scheme at any time. If the Scheme is terminated, the Trustee will wind up the Scheme and distribute the assets in accordance with the rules.

Registered The Scheme is a registered pension scheme. It has tax approval from HM Revenue & Customs under the Finance Act 2004. This approval means that the Scheme receives certain tax concessions and is subject to certain restrictions.

The tax concessions currently in place are:

- full income tax relief on any contributions you make to the Scheme up to prescribed limits;
- tax free cash sums can be paid on retirement and death; and
- tax advantages in respect of certain income and capital gains from the Scheme's investments.

The restrictions imposed are:

- pensions are treated as earned income and are taxed under the PAYE system;
- certain types of payments are unauthorised and will not be made by the Scheme.
- Entitlement to Your entitlement to benefits provided by the Scheme is set out in the rules of the Scheme.

You must not attempt to assign your future benefits to obtain cash payments or as security for loans. Under the rules, there can be no legal claim on the Scheme by anyone other than the person entitled to the benefits under the rules. If you attempt to assign your benefits, your benefits would cease to be payable and would come under the control of the Trustee for payment at its discretion.

Communication Website: Scheme information is placed on the Scheme website, www.selexpensions.co.uk.

InFocus: The Trustee will issue you with periodic newsletters (called InFocus) about the Scheme.

Annual Report and Accounts: The Trustee publishes an annual report and accounts. A copy of the report is available on the Scheme website.

Benefit statements: Each year you will normally receive a benefit statement, which will include details of your pension earned to date.

Data Protection Personal information is held and used for the purposes of administering the Scheme by the Trustee, the scheme administrators and their advisers. By joining the Scheme, you have given your consent to this data being held and processed for the purposes of the Scheme.

The data may be disclosed to insurance companies, the Company, any possible purchaser of the Company or its business, and any trustees, administrators or advisers of any other pension arrangement where a transfer of your pension rights is being made or considered.

Financial advice The Company, its employees and the Trustee are not authorised to give you financial advice. If you are in any doubt about the information contained in this booklet and require financial advice you should consult an independent financial adviser (IFA), who may charge a fee for his services. Contact details for IFAs in your area can be found at www.unbiased.co.uk.

On your retirement, Aon Hewitt can provide you with details of their independent annuity advice service. Please note that there is commission payable should you select this option which will be reflected in the annuity quotation provided.

State Pension As a member of the 100+ Section of the Scheme, you are contracted-in to the State pension system.

This means that:

in

- you and the Company pay full rate National Insurance contributions; and
- you receive the basic State pension and an additional State pension from State Pension Age.

Your additional state pension, currently known as State Second Pension (S2P) and formerly called State Earnings Related Pension (SERPS), will depend upon the National Insurance contributions you paid as an employee.

Members are now able to get a State Pension forecast online through the Pension Service website. You can access the Pension Service website at www.thepensionservice.gov.uk/state-pension/forecast

Queries, dispute resolution and regulatory bodies

Queries If you have a query about the Scheme, you should contact the Pension Administrator. They will normally be able to help answer your queries. Complaints and Should you have a complaint or dispute which is not settled to your satisfaction, you dispute can use the internal dispute resolution (IDR) procedure which the Trustee has put in resolution place to resolve complaints or disputes. Should you wish to make an application under the IDR procedure, you should contact the Pension Administrator. They will send you a copy of the IDR procedure, together with the appropriate forms needed to make an application. The procedure provides that the nominated complaints officer will consider your application and respond within 4 months of your formal application being made. If you are still dissatisfied, you may appeal to the Trustee to reconsider your application. Your appeal must be received within six months of the decision made and communicated by the Pension Administrator. The Trustee's decision is final. If you are dissatisfied with the outcome of the IDR process, the organisations detailed below may be available to assist you. The Pensions TPAS is an independent organisation available to assist members and other beneficiaries under occupational pension schemes in connection with any pension Advisory query they may have including any difficulties which they may have failed to resolve Service (TPAS) with the trustee or administrators. The address for TPAS is 11 Belgrave Road, London, SW1V 1RB. Telephone 0845 601 2923. The Pensions The Pensions Ombudsman can investigate and determine complaints of fact or law in Ombudsman relation to occupational pension schemes, such as the Scheme. The Pensions Ombudsman will normally only intervene after TPAS has been involved and failed to resolve the dispute. The address for the Pensions Ombudsman is 11 Belgrave Road, London, SW1V 1RB. Telephone 0207 834 9144. The Pensions The Pensions Regulator is the independent regulator of occupational pension schemes Regulator in the UK. Its aims are to ensure that the interests of members of occupational pension schemes are protected and to promote good administration of occupation pension schemes. The address for the Pensions Regulator is Napier House, Trafalgar Place, Brighton, East Sussex, BN1 4DW. Telephone 0870 606363. Information about the Scheme (including the address at which the Trustee may be Pension Tracing Service contacted) has been given to the Pensions Tracing Service. The Registrar acts as a central tracing agency to help individual members keep track of the deferred benefit entitlements they have in previous employers' schemes. The address for the Pensions Tracing Service is The Pension Service, Whitley Road Newcastle upon Tyne, NE98 1BA. Telephone 0845 600 2537.

Definitions

Throughout this booklet there are certain words and phrases (written in italics) which have special meanings and these are defined below:

BAE Systems Scheme	means the BAE Systems Pension Scheme.
Basic Contributions	means the contributions that you pay towards your core benefits.
Basic Salary	means the annual rate of your basic pay received from your employer. Except for the purpose of calculating Final Basic Salary , Basic Salary cannot exceed the Earnings Cap (if you joined the BAE Systems Scheme after 1 June 1989).
Company	means Selex ES Limited, and, in certain circumstances, any other employer participating in the Scheme .
Earnings Cap	if you joined the BAE Systems Scheme on or after 1 June 1989, an earnings cap will be imposed on your benefit entitlement. The Earnings Cap is £141,600 in the 2013/14 tax year. It will increase each April broadly in line with the percentage increase in the Retail Prices Index.
Final Basic Salary	means your average Basic Salary during your last 12 months ending on the last day of the calendar month in which you leave Service or die, whichever occurs first. Final Basic Salary cannot exceed the Earnings Cap (if you joined the BAE Systems Scheme after 1 June 1989).
Final Remuneration	means the former HM Revenue & Customs definition of final remuneration which is broadly gross taxable earnings averaged over three consecutive years in the ten years before leaving pensionable service. Please contact the Pension Administrator if you require further details.
